

Yes b, today marks one year, one whole year of us being together. God really saw me struggling in this new palace and gave me the best angel he had. One long year of being together, of learning about each other, growing and loving each other, it has been quite a journey, a journey that brought many emotions some good some bad, but a journey that I wouldn't have wanted to walk on with anyone else except Miss Stuti sama.

Since it has been 12 months since we became one strong unit here are 12 things that I love about my cute girlfriend:

- n
1. You are my home but a person
2 years at Jacobs, coming to an international college from a close-knit home, protected by my mom and dad and sister, Jacobs felt alone. Even though friends and parties and stuff but we always had to come home to the empty room. Before meeting you my lady love I have never really wanted to come back to my room this much. But now with you in my life baby, I finally don't feel so empty. I feel like coming home and to be honest look forward to come home and spend some time with you. You have come into my life and taken away all the emptiness from my life and I cannot thank you enough for this, couple or no bae.
2. You are my mirror:
The world and technology are getting smarter b, but we are still humans and hence feelings and hence mistakes. I am also a mere human b meaning I am not perfect, and I have many flaws. As men, as humans we really don't want to hurt the people we love and not show them this bad side of ours. It's the same with me but b, with you God has blessed me with an individual that shows me the mirror: is gentle enough with me when I am down and doesn't make me feel guilty about my bad things, yet you always motivate me to do better and I love you for that.
3. The most caring person that I have in life:
Simple things in life can mean so much in life baby and you are the most caring person in my life. I know the value of care and I have never had someone that cares so much about me, even about the smallest of details. You care about me more than I care about me, not just did I eat or not eat but also what I eat and what I wear and what I do b, you care about me more than I deserve, more than what my heart can handle, and even though sometimes I act like an absolute bitch and seem to get pissed, I know it makes my heart blush and maybe because of my baby constantly being at my back, now I just cook and eat on time so that I don't get scolded by my yummy girlfriend.

4. The only person that makes me feel good at probably my lowest:
Let me tell you a short story, hopefully it is not that boring and you do not dose off while listening to it. The time that at I met you was the time that I had gained some weight then the physique that I had visualized for myself, which I pretty much was very close to achieve as well, and during this time I was not the most confident man that there was in earth, and was doubting myself, particularly because I was not happy with the way that I looked myself. During this hard and maybe stupid time u came into my life like an angel that you are and made me realize that I am so much more than my weight and I cannot thank you enough for that. You literally are my backbone and I cannot express how much I love you for being the much needed backbone in my life especially when my very own backbone was not that strong.
5. U could be anything in the world but not a judge:
An quality about you that I cannot stress on about how grateful I am for. I can literally talk to you about everything in life: feelings that even I sometimes feel guilty for having even if they are in the tiniest corner of my heart but I do not have to hesitate once to talk to you or tell you about them. You always listen to them with all your heart and instead of looking at me or treating me like a criminal you always tell me that it is ok, that it is not that bad and always give me suggestions about how to better the situation. When I say you are not just my girlfriend but also my mentor and guide at times, I mean it with all my heart.
6. Considerate as fuck
Now b I do know that u have a lot of things that u are not happy in with our relationship: not replying instantly, not always replying to you about my whereabouts to name a few and I know there are many times in this relationship that u might have wanted to tell me that you are mad or pick a fight with me, but I know you always think about what I will think, and what will I do first and put this ahead of what you want and what u will feel which is something that I cannot thank you enough for. Thank you bae, for showing me that even today in 2022 this is possible and thank you for showing me that I am worthy of being loved in a way where someone puts me ahead of themselves, really didn't think that I was worthy of. Such love.
7. You are truthful and vulnerable with me:

You have always been honest with me, and always spoken your heart to me. Eventhough in the last few months, you have been a bit distant, after the pendant incident, it is what it is and you still are honest about your feelings and tell me about how your day went and similarly listen to me and my shitshow. You are that one person with whom i know whatever i say, the advice that i get is honest and eventhough i may not agree with the feedback all the time, i am always sure that the feedback is intended for my betterment.

8. your presence helps keep me calm when my life in chaos

Yes b, knowing you are there, knowing that nowmatter what happens, no matter how bad my day goes i know that when i go home i have my cute girlfriend waiting for me, and this, knowing this just puts me at ease. Thankyou b, thankyou for being that peace for me, not many people have that in life, and i know how vlaubale it is to have somebody like you.

9. you allow me to be myself around you b:

Now b no one is literally perfect but well we try to hide our flaws and show our best self to people. I am also not perfect b i have flaws, a personality different from the rough and tough guy that i portray to be, an comedian side an overacting side and all that but with you b i can just be whatever i want, and do what my heart tells without even having to think about anything b. Thank you for being the safe space and a space where i am allowed to go from gunda to newar to kid to bf whenever my heart feels like it baby gurl.

10. your goodnight and goodmorning texts

You always b and i mean always without forgetting make sure to wish me goodmornign and goodnight texts without forgetting every single day that we have dated b. Waking up to your texts make me realize that there is still positivity and good things left in my lufe. Thank you b always without forgetting to put a smile in my face the first thing i wake up and the last thing before going to bed.

11.boobies.

Do i even need to say anything?

12. Booty

The best peice of meat, the highest standard of steak my fav source of proten, will slurp it uppppp slurrp

Heres to one year b and heres to many many many more.

I love you
